4. Who the project is for:

- medium-sized Italian companies looking for a branch office in the industrial/logistics district with high standards of quality, efficiency and environment friendly policy;
- transport and logistics operators aiming at offering a competitive logistics system to Italian and multinational companies working in the Chinese and Far East markets.

5. Aims:

To build an Italian industrial/logistics district made of manufacturing plants and logistics warehouses in order to:

- give medium-sized Italian companies the opportunity of manufacturing and distributing their output in the Chinese and Asian markets;
- to provide logistics assistance to the companies operating in the district;
- to encourage new Italian companies entering the Chinese market;
- to address Italian companies' investment plans to the Tianjin area by a closer collaboration between the Italian and the Chinese local authorities;
- to gain full support from the Chinese Officials to speed up the implementation of this project through:
 - o search, recruitment and training of highly skilled personnel,
 - o legal, fiscal and business contract-editing assistance;
- to plan and build the new company sites in the district.
